DENTAL SURGERY.

MR. J. EMANUEL, Surgical and Mechanical Dentist, begs to submit to the Public his method of supplying Artificial Teeth, from one to a complete set, on the most improved and scientific principles, as practised by the most eminent dentists in Europe, which has afforded the most perfect satisfaction to those patients he has had the honour of waiting upon since his arrival in this Colony, both on account of the ease and comfort experienced in wearing them, and the safety with which they are introduced; they are so fixed to resemble nature itself, that they will defy observation from the most scrutinous eye, guaranteed to answer every purpose of Articulation and Mastication.

Teeth stopped with Mr. Emanuel's new preparation of Gold, which, from its durability surpasses all other metal. This is applied without giving the slightest pain, prevents further decay, renders extraction unnecessary, and removes that unpleasant odour in the breath invariably accompanying decayed teeth.

Mr. E. extracts with the greatest facility, all kinds of stumps; also cures effectually, the most complicated diseases, appertaining to Dental Surgery.

At home from 9 A.M. till 5 P.M.

FINE SCHOONER THOMAS CRISP

FOR SALE.

MR. BLACKMAN has been favoured with instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, George-street, on MONDAY, the 19th day of September, at Twelve o'clock precisely,

The beautiful fast-sailing schooner, Thomas Crisp A 1, burthen per register, O M., 175 tons, now lying at the east side of Sydney Cove. This vessel was built in 1834, under the superintendence of her owner and Lloyd's Surveyor, at Newport North Wales, England, of the best British oak, and is classed as a twelve years vessel; was coppered in 1839; was stripped, caulked, and recovered with Muntz's new patent metal, in January, 1840; well found with stores of every description, and is ready for sea.

This vessel carries a very large cargo, notwithstanding her fast-sailing qualities, and is well adapted for the coasting or for the Manila or Mauritius trade. She recently brought from Manila near five thousand bags of sugar, besides general merchandise; her draught, eleven feet when loaded.

For further particulars apply to the Auctioneer.

TERMS.—Twenty per cent. deposit upon the fall of the hammer, and the residue of the purchase money by approved bills at three, six, and nine months.

N.B. The vessel may be seen as she now lies, on the east side of Sydney Cove; and further particulars may be obtained of the Auctioneer, or of Messrs. Carr, Rogers, and Owen, solicitors, George street. 3645

CITY OF SYDNEY.

IMPORTANT TO MERCHANTS, WAREHOUSEMAN, STOREKEEPERS, SHOPKEEPERS, AND OTHERS, DESIROUS OF SECURING BUILDING GROUND IN THE CITY—ARE INFORMED THAT

MR. BLACKMAN has been favoured with instructions from A. B. Spark, Esq., to sell by Auction, on WEDNESDAY, the 21st September, 1842, at his Rooms, George-street, adjoining the Bank of New South Wales, at Twelve o'clock precisely,

ALLOTMENTS IN GEORGE-STREET,
" HARRINGTON-STREET,
" ESSEX-STREET,

The property of A. B. Spark, Esq., and known as his Stores, which are situate in George-street, and running from George-street to Harrington-street, and bounded on the south side by the site of the Old Jail, divided into

NINE ALLOTMENTS,

Each with a depth of from 55 to 70 feet—THREE FRONTAGES TO GEORGE STREET.

ALSO,

All that piece or parcel of Ground, at the corner of Harrington-street and Essex-street, opposite the site of the Old Jail, divided into

SIX ALLOTMENTS,

Having each about 25 feet Frontage to Harrington-street with a depth of 52 to 80 feet.

An opportunity such as this has seldom before, and can never again be presented to the public, from their position in the centre of business, their proximity to the COVE, CUSTOM HOUSE, QUEEN'S WHARF, CIRCULAR WHARF, and intended EXCHANGE, &c.

These Allotments are highly eligible for STORES, SHOPS, COUNTING HOUSES, &c., &c., and there can be but little doubt the extension of Harrington-street to the Custom House will be one of the first things to which the Corporation will turn their attention.

Plans in preparation, and will shortly be exhibited at the Rooms of the Auctioneer.

Terms—Ten per cent. cash deposit, upon the fall of the hammer, and the residue of the purchase money by approved bills at six, nine, and twelve months; the two last bearing interest.

NOTITIÆ AUSTRALASIANÆ.

GREY'S TRAVELS IN NORTH WEST AND WESTERN AUSTRALIA.—[Third notice.]

THE second volume of this work is partly occupied by the continuation of the journey in Western Australia, and partly by a series of independent discussions on the natives and their customs; together with an abstract of the discoveries made, and an account of what the author calls the "Overlanders," or, in vulgar language, stock-drivers from one colony to another.

The poetical and romantic interest with which Captain GREY has endeavoured to invest these gentlemen, is perhaps not exactly in accordance with the regular features of a history of personal adventures in search of geographical knowledge; but the information contained in the account is valuable, so far as the prospects of the southern and western colonies are concerned. The general result seems to be, that a preponderance of advantage is given, by the author's calculations, to a settler in South Australia, who in five years time is said, with equal capital to obtain £8,244 advantage over his fellow-settler in Western Australia.

It is not our intention to say a word respecting the narrative of the second expedition, simply because it details so many painful proofs of its unsuccessful character—respecting which an opinion has been already expressed. The summary of discoveries is a more legitimate subject for notice.

The country explored is between Cape Cuvier and Swan River, from 21° to 32° S., (in all, perhaps, short of four hundred miles), portions of the coast line of which territory have been, though imperfectly, before examined. Ten rivers, viz.: the Gascoyne, Murchison, Hutt, Bowes, Buller, Chapman, Greenough, Irwin, Arrowsmith, and Smith, and some smaller streams, and two mountain ranges were discovered; of the latter, one is N. E. of "Moresby's flat-topped range," and named Victoria Range—the flat fertile country at the base, extending from N. to S. more than fifty miles, having been called the Province of Victoria. Respecting this the author speaks in very high terms, thinking it will attain to "no mean destiny among the nations of the earth;" terms, indeed, which might be deemed applicable to little less than Australia itself. The other, Gairdner's Range, runs west from the Darling Range, and is bare, sterile, and barren.

Two other fertile districts were also found: that of Babbage, and an unnamed one near Perth.

The French expedition, in 1801, had already made known the peculiar features of the barren coast about Shark's Bay; so that but little, if any, new matter is in this part of the account, laid before the reader.

Captain GREY says the occurrence of drift-wood and "snags" about Bernier Island, first led him to conclude that a large river existed in the neighbourhood. He infers, that the timber is of a lighter description than was before known in that part of the continent; and that it is the most southern river bearing drift-wood up. The Gascoyne (which is its name,) is distinguished by the absence of an estuary, and by the influence of the tide at a considerable distance from its mouths.

The Carboniferous series is here developed, and also from the bottom of Geographe Bay to Cape Cuvier: this, Capt. GREY says, "imparts a very high degree of interest to the district in question." It is much to be regretted, that this series of deposits was not more particularly examined and described; because, from a circumstance related by the French author, PERON, it would, it is believed, have thrown light upon the age of some of the coal deposits of Australia. PERON says, that the substrata of Bernier Island, are of a horizontally-bedded red and white fossiliferous calcareous rock, regularly jointed; and that the principal fossil is a Natica, much allied to the living species of Natica living at the foot of the rocks; the shells are incrusted very firmly in the mass, and extend more than 150 feet vertically above the level of the sea. Calcareous concretions, with a zony structure, also occur here. These rocks, according to PERON, compose the whole of the country; and are overlaid by calcareous blown sand: the same features and composition characterising the neighbouring islands.

The relationship of these calcareous beds to other similar rocks in New South Wales, and of the fossil to recent shells, would make an investigation of this "Carboniferous series" to be of extreme importance to a country like Australia, which is so much interested in the development of its mineral wealth. We see nothing of this, however, in Captain GREY's book, although he says, he "carefully examined" the tract alluded to.

According to the journal of Mr. MOORE, who was despatched on an expedition to this district, after Captain GREY's return to Perth, the islands and the intervening sea-bottom about Houtman's Abrolhos, are of coral, and a formation of fresh land is, through it, still going on; the elevation being from ten to twelve feet, and is, as conjectured, on the ruins of volcanic craters. All the islets are described as of a mushroom form, overlapping a narrow base, so that they appeared like an umbrella.

Mr. MOORE, speaking of the spot "pencilled on the chart by Captain GREY," as the site of the large estuary of the Hutt River, says, "there was not even a drop of water visible, nor any sign of a large river—though this is just the position assigned to the Hutt River." It was conjectured, therefore, that the water was, to a great degree, absorbed before it reached the sea, as we find with many rivers in this country! The northern river was found blocked up with sand, and overgrown with samphire. Mr. MOORE says, the Victoria province extends not fifty but eighty miles. The country to the south is described as a dry swamp in places, and in others, covered with parched and withered grass. The largest river in Captain KING's chart, is also said to have been found filled up with a sandy beach.

The third district explored by Capt. GREY is immediately to the north. It contains the four rivers, the Norcott, Moore, Smith, and Hill. The two former were before known, and the third is 25 miles north of the second. This whole district seems to be fit for location, and is sufficiently furnished with water.

In the chapter on the Natural History of the Voyage to England, Capt. GREY observes, that "one remarkable circumstance relating to St. Helena is, that it is of basaltic formation, exactly resembling that of the Isle of France, and the north-west coast of New Holland; and that although so widely separated by longitude, these places lie in nearly the same latitude." There is nothing, however, very remarkable in this, nor is it certain that the formations do exactly resemble each other. He goes on to add, "When you quit the sandstone ranges of the north-west of Australia, reptiles which have been before very numerous, at once become scarce. I never saw a snake in this great basaltic district, although there were plenty in the sandstone. This, however, is only negative evidence. BROOKES in his History of St. Helena, (2nd edit. p. 24), says:—"There are neither frogs, toads, nor snakes in this island." In the Mauritius, likewise, there are neither toads nor snakes, and only one species of frog, whilst the bones of the land tortoise (Testudo Indica) are only found in a fossil state. Also, the highest land in St. Helena is 2800 feet; in the Mauritius, about 2900 feet (scarcely); and in the volcanic district of North-west Australia about the same height."

Most of the CAPTAIN's readers have heard of a somewhat similar logical analogy or connexion between Goodwin Sands and Tenterden steeple!

In New South Wales, the snakes are not so particular: they seem to flourish as well on the "basaltic formations" of Prospect and Sutton Forest, and the Liverpool Range, as on the enveloping sandstone tracts.

As to the reptiles not being found in the islands, it does not appear that basalt has so much to do with it, as the position of the islands. In the Dukhun of India, which is nearly all one enormous basaltic region, reptiles are numerous. There are the Trionyx Indica, and other species; Monitors and Lacertæ; and serpents of all kinds, from the gigantic boa constrictor to the small and beautiful carpet-snake. There are also the deadly cobra da capello, and some other poisonous species. Thus says Colonel SYKES.

ASSIZE INTELLIGENCE.

MAITLAND CIRCUIT.—MONDAY.

Before the CHIEF JUSTICE and Assessors.

SINGLETON v. STEWART.

This was an action of trover, brought to recover six horses, alleged to have been converted by the defendant as trustee of the estate of one Benjamin Singleton, from the plaintiff to the insolvent's use. Mr. Windeyer appeared for the plaintiff, and the Solicitor-General and Mr. Michie for the defendant.

The defendant had pleaded that the plaintiff was not possessed of the goods as of his own property; and secondly, that the plaintiff had allowed the horses to remain in the order and disposition of the insolvent, whereby according to the provisions of the 55th clause of the Insolvent Act, the horses became liable to be seized, and were seized by the defendant as trustee for the creditors of the insolvent Singleton.

It appeared in evidence, that the horses in question had most of them been bred from a one-eyed mare, which had come into possession of the plaintiff from a man named Taylor, an old servant of the elder Singleton's. It further appeared, that although the horses were seized on the elder Singleton's farm, they had been, for many years, reputed to be the property of Benny Singleton (the name by which the younger Singleton was known); and throughout the surrounding neighbourhood it had been considered, that the old man, the insolvent, was only allowed the use of the animals by his son.

Witnesses were called for the defendant, who alleged that it was well known in the neighbourhood that the animals belonged to the old man; and on his Honor leaving it to the Jury to decide on the question of reputed ownership, the Assessors found a verdict for the plaintiff—damages £165.

NICHOLSON v. YOUNG.

This was an action brought to recover £50, for money had and received. The Solicitor-General and Mr. Michie appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Windeyer for the defendant. The money claimed by the plaintiff was alleged to have been paid by him for land, to which it was said the defendant had warranted a good title, and a certain quantity. By the evidence, however, it appeared that the defendant had himself made a contract with another party to buy some land, and had subsequently agreed to sell (for the sum now attempted to be recovered) his bargain, whatever it might be, and subject to all defects.

His Honor decided that the plaintiff must be nonsuited.

The above two cases occupied the whole of the day, and at about 5 o'clock the Court adjourned until 10 o'clock on Tuesday.

TUESDAY.

DAWSON v. WINDEYER.

This was an action of assumpsit. The Solicitor-General and Mr. Michie for the plaintiff, and Mr. Windeyer (in the absence of Mr. Cheeke, his counsel,) appeared in person. The plaintiff by the first count of his declaration claimed to recover compensation for the services of an entire horse at his station at Graham's town; and by his (plaintiff's) second count sought damages for injury alleged to have been received by his horse, from the insufficient stabling and bad food given to the horse on the station, whereby he was prevented from fully completing the contract which had been made between the plaintiff and defendant.

For the plaintiff, Mr. Armstrong, the veterinary surgeon, of Sydney, was called, who proved that the horse was in fine condition immediately before leaving Sydney, in September, 1841, for the defendant's station; and that on seeing the horse at the time he was about to return from the station, he was in very low condition, apparently from bad feeding and treatment.

A man named Francis, the groom of the plaintiff, attending on the horse at Mr. Windeyer's station, said, that the hay, corn, bran, green meat, and stabling, were insufficient and defective, the food being bad both in quality and quantity, and the stable placed in a paddock in which mares were running, by which the horse became weakened and deteriorated in his condition. Two persons named Ryley and Brodie corroborated the testimony of the plaintiff's groom; and several other parties proved that the general character of the horse was a sure foal-getter.

For the defendant, witnesses were called from the station, who alleged that the food was good in quality, and that the horse's incapacity arose from a complaint in his hind legs. Much evidence was offered of a contradictory character, and as the Assessors were not satisfied that the deteriorated state of the horse arose from the default of the defendant, they returned a verdict in his favour on the special count, and were not of opinion that the horse had earned more money than had been paid into Court by the defendant, under the indebitatus count, £40. The verdict, therefore, was a general one in favour of the defendant. The trial lasted the whole day.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS.

TUESDAY.

Before the CHIEF COMMISSIONER.

EXAMINATIONS.

In the insolvency of John Collie:

This insolvent was examined by Mr. FISHER, and deposed as follows: I was indebted to David Jones in April, 1841; the amount of the account furnished for goods sold was £600; I was also indebted to him and Mr. William Wright for cash credit at the Bank of Australasia; Messrs. D. Jones and W. Wright were security for me, each for £250. In April, 1841, I paid in about £280 towards paying off the cash credit; to the best of my recollection, the items on the paper marked A, are the sums I paid; I paid them to D. Jones to pay off my liabilities, and he received them for that purpose; I was very much embarrassed in 1841. D. Jones proposed to me to execute a deed of assignment, Jones and Younger were to be trustees in consequence of their being the largest creditors; when I had executed the deed of assignment, Mr. Jones said, that he had asked Mr. Younger, and he had consented; Mr. Jones sent the deed to me, at Wollongong, to sign; John Jones brought it to me to sign there; and after I had signed it, I returned it to John Jones. On the 26th April, an execution was put into my house, at the suit of David Jones. About the end of March, 1841, I had given David Jones a warrant of attorney for £500; it was given to secure the balance of the cash credit. The execution was issued under that warrant of attorney, there was about £220 then due of the cash credit account, in addition to what I had paid to Mr. Jones; I gave all my books to John Jones, for Mr. David Jones, the trustee; I gave them to him on the 7th May, being the day when the stock was sold off; the account marked A was read to me by Mr. David Jones; at that time there were £1400 of good debts on my books; I have collected a good many of the debts, and handed over the money to Captain Crawford, of Wollongong; Mr. David Jones saw me at Wollongong in the middle of March, and suggested that I should execute a deed of assignment for the general benefit of my creditors.

Cross-examined by Mr. Thompson: I do not know that the deed was accepted by Mr. Jones; I do not know whether Mr. John Jones was authorised to get the deed signed or not; I was taken in execution by Mr. Jones and Mr. Canaghie at the same time; I took the benefit of the Act at that time; I filed my schedule, and specified certain property in it; I afterwards amended my schedule, and was discharged; I was subsequently taken again in execution by Mr. Jones, on which I made an affidavit, on which I was discharged from the second execution; in the first instance I was discharged on the 10th July, and in the second instance on the 14th July; I remember my books being required by the Judge; Mr. Jones brought the books and filed them, and I made a fresh schedule from them after which I was discharged.

Re-examined by Mr. FISHER: I asked Mr. David Jones if he would act as trustee, and he said he would; it was before eight o'clock in the morning of the 13th of April that I signed the deed.

Mr. Charles Younger being called, was examined by Mr. FISHER as follows: I and my partner were creditors of the insolvent in April, 1840, to the amount of £148; Mr. David Jones called upon me about March, 1841, with an unexecuted deed of assignment by Collie, for the benefit of the creditors; it was a draft deed; Jones and myself were mentioned in that deed as trustees; Mr. Jones told me that the deed was for the general benefit of the creditors of Collie; he told me to read it over and to sign it; it was left for me to read, and I called at Mr. Jones's with it, with the intention of signing it; the deed was to my satisfaction; I did not see Mr. D. Jones at that time; I never executed that deed; I had never been unwilling to act upon it, till Mr. Jones mentioned and explained the circumstances; I left the deed at the office, and said I would call again; Mr. Jones met me a day or two after and said he did not think it any use to sign the deed, as there would be nothing; I ought to have stated that to the best of my recollection the deed was signed when Mr. Jones brought it to me; I believe that the deed marked B is the deed in question; when Mr. Jones brought the deed to me I was willing to act upon it.

Cross-examined by Mr. Thompson: I did not see Mr. Jones, nor tell him that I was willing to act upon it.

W. Walker, being called by Mr. Fisher deposed as follows: I was a creditor of Collie in March, 1841; I saw Mr. D. Jones on the subject of Collie's debts; I was then going to take proceedings against Collie; Mr. Jones told me that he had sent a deed of assignment to be executed, and that it would be of no use for me to proceed upon the bill.

In the insolvency of Henry Moon.

The insolvent was called by Mr. DARVALL, for the purpose of supporting a proof of debt made by Ramsay and Young for £240, being a balance of an account; the evidence given was as follows: The purchase of the schooner Paterson by me from Mr. Young was merely verbal; I never got a bill of sale; I considered her as my property and treated her as such; at the time of my insolvency she was rented by a man named Rattary; I know that she has been sold by Ramsay and Young; I expended £200 at all events in repairs on the schooner; Ramsay and Young took possession of her since my insolvency and have sold her; Rattary had a requisition from Ramsay and Young, and he obeyed it; I was at Brisbane Water at the time; I did not consult Ramsay and Young concerning the repairs; I swear that I never authorised Ramsay and Young to sell the vessel; during the time I had her on my own account she earned about £18 per month.

Cross-examined by Mr. ROGERS: I took possession of the vessel in January, 1841; I will not swear that the sale took place in November, 1840. I made Ramsay and Young, payments on account of the purchase; the paper now shown to me is a bill of sale which I sent for execution to Ramsay and Young; they did not execute it; I cannot swear how long I had possession of the vessel under the arrangement for sale; before I sent them that bill of sale I was applied to three or four times by Mr. Young to complete my contract; I ran the vessel twelve or thirteen months on my own account. I did not receive any money from Rattary on account of the hire of the Paterson; she was advertised for sale by private contract by Mr. Rattary; Mr. Young called on me and told me he was going to sell the vessel, when I referred him to the trustees; I do not think that I made an offer to Mr. Young to hire the vessel; there was no specified time made for payment; I have not allowed any thing to Ramsay and Young for the twelve months she was running, as I considered her as my property.

Joshua Richmond Young, called by Mr. Rogers, deposed: I made frequent applications to Mr. Moon for the completion of the contract. The reason why a bill of sale was not executed was that the purchase-money was never paid. I saw Mr. Morris the day before the vessel was sold, and he referred me to Mr. Moon. I informed Mr. Morris of the intended sale of the vessel, and that we had an offer for her; also, that we required them to pay the balance, and they might have her. Mr. Morris said he would consult Mr. Moon, and would give me an answer next day. I called on him next day, when he said that Mr. Moon had not called upon him, and the thing again referred me to Mr. Moon. I again saw Moon, and informed him that the vessel was about to be sold, in consequence of his not completing the contract. All this took place after Moon's insolvency. I asked Moon since that time to complete the sale. I saw Mr. Morris yesterday, and said to him, "You object to our claim against Moon's estate?" to which he replied, "It is not me, I do not know anything at all about it."

This closed the inquiry, when the Chief Commissioner disallowed the claim of Ramsay and Young for £274 13s. 3d., on the ground that they had no right to sell the vessel, but ought to have valued her on their claim of debt.

A debt claimed by Tucker and Co. from Moon's estate, amounting to £95 19s. 5d., and which had been sworn to on the 13th April, was also reduced yesterday by the Chief Commissioner from £95 19s. 5d. to £1 19s. 5d., on similar grounds as the claim of Ramsay and Young had been disallowed.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW.

ALTHOUGH the day was propitiously fine, the number of visitors was much fewer than we have witnessed for the last two years, a circumstance caused no doubt by the depressed state of mercantile affairs. The exhibition itself, however, was equal, if not superior, in several respects to the last, as we shall particularise in the notes, which we took by the liberal permission of the Committee, before the hall was crowded with visitors. There was, we are informed, about £50 taken at the door in the course of the day.

FLOWERS.

The most striking improvement appeared in the collection of heartsease (called by the Committee pansies) at the upper end of the flower table. The increased size of the flowers, as well as their forms and colours, give us good hopes of our town being able to come up to the standard of the best English sorts, though we are still a long distance behind. There was one fine yellow one, but it had not the dark angular eye which renders Thompson's enterprise, and similar flowers, so much prized. There was also one like the old London giant, the parent of many of the fine English sorts. Several were trained a foot high or more, a practice which would make the best sorts dwindle and produce run colours. Heartsease ought always to be either pruned short or laid down short, in order to have fine large flowers. The common primrose (Primula veris) and the Polyanthus, supposed to be a hybrid from this, as well as a yellow polyanthus, with an orange eye, erroneously named Primula elatior, showed to a much greater advantage than we have hitherto seen them here. The auriculas (Primula auricula) are yet in their infancy, and we fear our climate is too warm for those natives of the Alps. Even the Chinese primrose (Primula Sinensis) does not seem to answer well, though there was a tolerable plant of the white variety. We admired the double daisies, but most of all the "wee, modest, crimson-tipped flower," as Burns designates the single mountain daisy, or gowan (Bellis perennis). It was too early by a week or two for tulips, which were very poor—the best being a Van Thol (Tulipa suaveolens). Amongst the bulbs the Sparaxes were the most conspicuous, and amongst the finest flowers in the exhibition. The hyacinths were little better than the tulips. There were several species of Narcissus, such as N. tazetta, N. poeticus, N. jonquilla, and N. pseudo-narcissus, though the last was so nearly white that we could scarcely recognize in it the daffodil of Europe. There were several pretty species of Ixia, such as I. scillaris, I. maculata, I. capillaris, and I. aristata. We were much pleased with the richly coloured Bibiana rubro-cyanea, and the curious little B. ringens, now called Antholyza ringens. There were one or two tolerable Mimuli and Calceolarias, and along with them a fine dark sweet-William pink Dianthus barbatus). One of our native runners, Kennedeya prostrata, with its pretty scarlet blossoms, was trained in a pot in form of a domed bower, and had a pretty effect. Amongst trained plants, however, the Tropæolum canariense was the finest, and it was improved on each side by having as supporters the long flowering spikes of our native rock lily (Dendrobium speciosum). Mr. Henderson exhibited some fine flowers of the tree peony (Pæonia Moutan), and also some tolerable camellias and Magnolia purpurea. There were several fine heaths, such as Erica gelida, E. multiflora, and E. baccans, so named from its pretty berry-like flowers. There was a fine specimen in a pot of Silene gracilis, with a great profusion of flowers. The black protea (Protea nigra) is a very curious plant, and very unlike our Australian proteaceæ, such as Telopea, Xylomelon, Banksia, Lambertia, &c. Among the leguminosæ was a branch of a Glycine, and another of a New Zealand plant—Cleanthus Phœnicia—very fine. A branch of laurel (Laurus nobilis) was exhibited in full and profuse blossom, the first time it has flowered in the colony. Amongst common plants in English gardens, we remarked the Tetragonolobus edulis and Borago officinalis: the latter we have seen, apparently naturalised, in the Government Domain, along with the Silybum marianum. There was a small specimen in a pot of the very beautiful shrub absurdly called the native rose (Boronia serata). It is worthy of remark that a pot of the rather uncommon Bartonia, a night flowering plant, came into full blow about two o'clock—as did a very fine anemone—after the judges had decided the prizes. The only other remarkable flowers which we noticed were, Verbena Tweediana, Escholtzia crocata, Veltheimia glauca, Himemerus urticifolia, and Polygala oppositifolia.

Amongst curious plants we may remark that there was a branch with a large piece of bark of the cork tree (Quercus Suber), of the sugar cane (Saccharum officinale), and the cotton plant (Gossypium), exhibited by Dr. Thomson, with specimens of both white Persian cotton and nankin coloured cotton, both grown in Sydney. Dr. Low, of the Theresa, exhibited a specimen of the Myrica cordifolia with ripe fruit from the Cape, one of the candle-berry myrtles, from whose berries a sort of wax is prepared for making candles, a specimen of which was also on the table. On one estate at the Cape last year twenty-five cwt. of this was procured.

FRUITS.

Amongst the fruits we tasted a blood orange, which appeared to be of excellent flavour though the colour was not so bright as we have seen at Home. There were some very fine loquats, citrons, and shaddocks—one queen pine, and one bunch of bananas. We were also pleased to see a small sample of Spanish chestnuts, and a tiny dish of strawberries. The oranges were the most abundant fruit, and were very fine particularly the Mandarin sorts.

VEGETABLES.

Two specimens of sea-kale were exhibited, which is so great a novelty here that we heard it pronounced to be asparagus by several of the visitors. The other vegetables were as fine as could well be imagined. We were particularly struck with an Indian bean, with a pod about a foot long and two inches broad; the beans are reddish like scarlet runners.

PRIZE FLOWERS.

A. B. Spark, Esq., Cleantuus Phœniceus; Miss E. Macarthur, specimen of Quercus Suber, or Cork, grown in the colony, a medal, introduced into the colony in 1817, by the late John Macarthur Esq.; Master E. Bowman, Azalia, or Rhododendron Indicum Phœniceum, 2nd medal; A. B. Spark, Esq., Tropæolum Peligrinum; R. Henderson, Pansies, 2nd class medal; J. Kenyon, Auriculas, 2nd class medal; Mr. Newman, Primula Sinensis, 2nd class medal; Mr. Edward Bowman, Polyanthus Varieties, 2nd class medal; Mr. J. Baptist, daises, 3rd minor prize; Mr. G. Macdonald, daises, 2nd minor prize; Mr. E. Bowman, Ranunculus, 2nd minor prize; Mr. E. Smith, Anemone, 2nd minor prize; Mr. M'Gill, Tulips, 3rd medal: Mr. E. Bowman, collection of Nircissus, 3rd medal; Mr. E. Bowman, Sparaxis collection, 20 varieties; A. B. Spark, Sparaxis grandiflora; G. M'Donald, for Wyness, Babiana, 2nd minor prize; E. Bowman, Ixia collection, 2nd minor prize; A. B. Spark, Sparaxis tricolor, 3rd minor prize; E. Bowman, Gladiolus tristis, 3rd minor; G. M'Donald, for Mrs. Wyness, Sweet-William, 2nd minor; E. Smith, Gladiolus tristis, 3rd minor; E. Bowman, Cixcelia Indica Alba, 3rd medal; R. Henderson, Magnolia purpura, 1st minor; R. Henderson, Peonies, 3rd minor; R. Henderson, Camellias, 1st minor; A. B. Spark, Erica multiflora, 2nd minor; Lady O'Connell, Veltheimia, 2nd minor; Lady O'Connell, geranium, 1st minor; R. Driver, for Mr. Kidd, Polygala cordifolia, 3rd minor; E. Bowman, bouquet, 3rd medal; H. Macarthur, Westania Sinensis, 2nd minor; H. Macarthur, Prunus Lauro-cerasus, 3rd minor; Dr. Thomson, Georgia Cotlor, 1st minor; W. C. Wentworth, sugar-cane, 2nd minor; J. R. Brenan, bouquet, 2nd minor; E. Bowman, Cactus Mamillaria, 3rd minor; W. C. Wentworth, Bartonia, 3rd minor; W. C. Wentworth, double jonquil, 3rd minor; W. C. Wentworth, Himmeris urticifolia, 1st minor.

PRIZE FRUITS.

Mr. Spurway, Mandarin orange, 1st prize; G. M'Donald, for T. Smith, China orange, 3rd prize; G. M'Donald, for T. Atkinson, navel orange, 2nd prize; J. Baptist, apple, 1st minor prize; W. C. Wentworth, Esq., pine apple, 1st minor prize; G. M'Donald, for Mr. Scott, banana, 2nd minor prize; G. M'Donald, loquat, 1st minor; T. Sheppard, strawberry, 1st minor; G. M'Donald, for T. Atkinson, West India limes, 2nd minor; Mr. Mr. Spurway, Lisbon lemons, 2nd minor.

PRIZE VEGETABLES.

J. Baptist, cauliflower; J. Baptist, brocoli; G. M'Donald, for Mr. Wynness, brocoli; J. Baptist, scymetar pea; J. Baptist, pea, second prize; G. M'Donald, for Mr. Wynness, salad; M. M'Gill, salad, second prize; M. M'Gill, cabbage; J. Baptist, drumhead cabbage; J. Baptist, savoy; M. M'Gill, red cabbage; G. M'Donald, for Wynnes, cucumber; T. Sheppard, asparagus; G. M'Donald, for Mr. Wynness, asparagus, second prize; G. M'Donald, for Mr. Wynness, leek; J. Baptist, leek, second prize; J. Baptist, collection of radishes; J. Baptist, horseradish; J. Baptist, red beet; J. Baptist, potatoes, first and second prize; J. Baptist, beans; M. M'Gill, celery; J. Baptist, celery, second prize; J. Baptist, spinach; J. Baptist, turnips; M. M'Gill, turnips, second prize; J. Baptist, turnips, third prize; Ditto, carrots, third prize; John Nobbs, carrots, second prize; J. Baptist, parsnip; John Nobbs, cabbage lettuce; J. Baptist, collection of lettuce; Ditto, rhubarb; Ditto, collection of herbs; Ditto, spring onions; J. Sheppard, watercress; Mrs. Chisholm, curled parsley; Ditto, salsify; Dr. Thompson, bean; Mrs. Chisholm, pumpkin; J. Baptist, sea kale; John Nobbs, cabbage; Mrs. Hosking, cucumber; J. Baptist, potatoe, second prize.

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS.

Mr. E. Bowman.—Narcissus bulbocodium; narcissus poeticus; narcissus late yellow; narcissus pseudo-narcissus; narcis us telamonius plenus; primula sinensis; primula alba; taxus baccata; erica multiflora; erica bacchans; erica gelida; hyacinth; erica verbena tweediana; calceolaria rugosa; common primrose (primula veris) two specimens; oxlip, a hybrid; polyanthus; bellis perennis (common daisy or gowan); babiana rubro-cyanea, two specimens; ranunculus, two specimens; anemone; gladiolus tristis; præcox. Moræa pecimen; hypoxis stellata; ixia yellow; ixia maculata; ixia aristata; ixia scillaris; sparaxis (23 specimens); veltheimia glauca; cereus ottoris; mamillaria, specimen; mamillaria, specimen; heartsease; rhododendron indicum album; rhododendron phœnicium; bouquet. The sparaxis were all grown from seed by the exhibitor.

Mr. Isaac Nobbs.—2 bunches of oranges, 2 dishes of oranges; 1 bunch Lisbon lemons; and 1 dish loquats.

Mr. F. Spurway.—Common oranges; seville and mandarin oranges; a collection of oranges; a collection of Lisbon lemons, loquats, pears and citrons.

Mr. Vines.—China oranges, Seville oranges, large Mandarin orange, dwarf Mandarin orange, grape fruit, shaddock, pumelo, shaddock, aunona cherimolia, citron (Norfolk Island.) And for Miss Emmeline Macarthur, a specimen of cork produced in the colony.

Mr. Kidd, per Mr. R. Driver.—Polage.

H. S. Green.—Aletris capensis.

Lady O'Connell.—Veltheimia, 2 geraniums.

H. H. Macarthur, Esq.—4 varieties of flowers.

DIOCESAN COMMITTEE.—The Annual meeting of the Diocesan Committee of the Societies for Promoting Christian Knowledge and Propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts, will be held in the Phillip-street Grammar School, at two o'clock to-day. Previous to the meeting, the Bishop of Australia will preach a sermon to the members of the Societies, in St. James's church.

FANCY BAZAAR.—Public attention and curiosity were yesterday engaged at the Flower Show and Fancy Bazaar. The latter in the long room of the Royal Hotel, had a large number of visitors, and, apparently, as large a number of purchasers. The tables, of which there were twelve or fourteen, were well strewed with useful and ornamental articles; and the room generally, dressed with evergreens, &c., presented a scene at once lively and interesting. The application d'esprit displayed by the ladies who arranged and presided at the tables, was the subject of universal commendation; nor were we displeased at witnessing the eagerness displayed by the fair dealers, to induce the "married and single" gentlemen, to become purchasers of the exquisite or unique work entrusted to their charge. Altogether the object of the ladies of Dr. Ross's congregation in holding the bazaar has answered their expectation, and we congratulate them on the result of their exertions.

(From our various Correspondents.)

M'LEAY RIVER.

KEMPSEY, AUGUST 22. — On Saturday, the 6th instant, a fine new cutter, about 30 tons burthen, coppered, was launched from the dock-yard of Messrs. Newton, Ferrier, and Malcolm, which, including two vessels of nearly 200 tons each, now in a rapid state of progress on the stocks, makes the thirteenth vessel which these experienced and enterprising shipwrights have already built on the M'Leay. She will sail with a full cargo of cedar, comprising about 14,000 feet, on Tuesday next (to-morrow) for Sydney; whither Mr. Ferrier proceeds at the same time.

Major Henry Oakes, who still labours under severe indisposition, has in consequence, at length been induced to resign, as Commissioner of Crown Lands; and a new commissioner is daily expected to arrive in his stead.

The M'Leay is at length nearly done up for the cedar trade, there being now not more than a dozen pair of sawyers employed thereon, and they are all below the falls, where the description of timber has at length become so very scarce, that these men will not, it is expected, find employment here for many months longer; and in the meantime there is no probability of any extensive cedar merchants again engaging any sawyers to proceed above the falls, though the timber there is very plentiful, and of the most superb quality; for they now all seem disposed to give a decided preference to the Nanbuckra; because it is already ascertained that the cedar may be got from thence to the Sydney market with a greater certainty of success, especially as to time, although at present it is attended with more expense, arising from its immense land carriage into, and from the Nanbuckra to the M'Leay, ere it can be shipped. An attempt is however being just made to get its cedar rafted out of the entrance of the Nanbuckra.

The Lucy Anne and Esther, arrived at Trial Bay about a week since, and are taking in cargo, as well as the Favorite and Letitia for Sydney.

The Isabella and Lark, with merchandise, partly for sale in exchange for cedar, arrived this afternoon; we have cargoes of cedar ready for them.

Mr. Sullivan has recently recommenced the cedar trade with spirit; and as there are now only two small vessels (those last named) trading so high up the river as Kempsey, one or two more crafts of the same draught of water as the Isabella, are now consequently much wanted in the cedar trade here, if this gentleman has not already chartered one or two good vessels for that purpose.

Things still remain exceedingly dull on the M'Leay, which makes many people thereon look with the greatest anxiety for the river being soon thrown open. When the Crown Lands are sold, which will no doubt be the case very shortly, it is said that some nobleman in England, through the medium of his agent in New South Wales, intends to become a very considerable purchaser of the fertile soils on the extensive plains and banks of the M'Leay, and that he proposes to let the same in small farms to a numerous peasantry, whom he is about to forward from Scotland. If this be true, (and I derive my information from the most unquestionable authority), there can be no doubt that the river M'Leay, will, at no very distant period, produce a great supply of wheat, maize, potatoes, swine, poultry, and tobacco, and eventually, become an agricultural settlement inferior to none in the whole colony of New South Wales. This river cannot be surpassed by any other in Australia as to her vast commercial and agricultural capabilities — in extent and quality of soil, and its navigable waters for conveying produce to the Sydney market; and a finer river there cannot be for ship-building. The climate, too, is remarkably fine, healthy, and cool; so much so that little or no sickness is experienced here, compared to other parts of the colony. The past winter has been very pleasant, but the nights rather cold, ice as thick as a dollar having frequently been witnessed in the mornings. Under these circumstances there is every reason to hope and believe that the noble M'Leay will yet, in spite of being left to struggle for itself, rear its head, and become a flourishing agricultural settlement; and this will doubtless tend in a corresponding degree to advance the value of landed property in the pretty little village of Kempsey, where Major Innes and Mr. Rudder are the most extensive proprietors, and have, it is generally understood, a considerable number of allotments for disposal.

It is understood that the Crown Land which is to be shortly sold here, has been measured into sixty-acre farms, after Lord John Russell's new Land Regulations; and that the poor as well as the rich man, would in consequence, have the same chance of buying one of these lots. Will it, therefore, be good policy on the part of the Government to allow any nobleman, or indeed any one or two wealthy persons, to buy up and thus monopolise all these snug little farms themselves, exclusively? For, would not such be an encouragement to land-jobbing, and also a check to the agricultural prosperity of the colony, which ought to be promoted by every possible means and encouragement, more so than any one thing else in Australia? It is a crying shame to witness so many hundred thousand pounds annually drained from the colony, going into the pockets of the foreigner, for supplies of "salt junk," and rubbishing wheat, and inferior sour flour. New South Wales, the finest grazing country in the world, and which might and would produce, not only sufficient wheat, but meat of its own growth to supply its own consumption, if not also a large surplus for exportation, will, I fear, always continue to remain in an insolvent state so long as this disgraceful state of things lasts.

Having hastily rambled into this matter, I cannot conclude without offering one or two remarks, which are simply these. If the wealthy colonists will not venture to embark their capital in growing wheat upon an extensive scale, I would say that the public have yet to learn what reasonable grounds can be advanced by the opponents to Lord John Russell's new Land Regulations to the small farm system in this as well as the sister colony and Ireland. The humble writer of this hasty communication is a strong advocate for it; and his reasons for being so may be seen in a series of letters, signed "Franklin," inserted in several successive numbers of the Australasian Chronicle of April and May, 1840. Indeed, so persuaded am I of the great importance of encouraging agriculture in this colony by every possible means, that I really do believe that it would be well for New South Wales, if the original system of giving small grants, as was done in the good old days of Governor Macquarie, was again resorted to; and nothing could, in my humble opinion, tend to be more beneficial to the colony at large, than for the Governor to give, as a reward, small grants of land, say from fifty acres upwards, to every person who might be the means of apprehending an armed bushranger; I think that the experiment is worth trying. If it would tend to put down bushranging, it would be a two-fold benefit to the colony, in restoring peace and tranquillity, and security to the lives and property of the colonists, and at the same time securing the agricultural interests of its inhabitants.

Notwithstanding all the anxiety that has been created, as to the expectation of Mr. Verge's intention to throw open his fine and extensive estate on the banks of the M'Leay, with ten miles of water frontage, into small farms, on clearing leases, it is to be regretted that there appears no probability of this gentleman commencing so laudable an undertaking. He has an immense quantity of cedar growing thereon, and has been offered a very high price for it, as it stands, but at present appears no way disposed to part with it, or forward it to the Sydney market himself, as was expected.

About six or eight weeks ago, we experienced a continued fall of rain for three days and nights, which caused a pretty good fresh in the river, but not sufficient for the purpose of rafting cedar out of the creeks into the stream of the M'Leay above the falls. The consequence is, that Capt. Gillies who has some four or five hundred thousand feet of cedar lying thereon, has not yet been enabled to get it down to Trial Bay, for shipment to Sydney. While writing, it is thundering and lightning, with every appearance of rain.

Two or three sudden deaths, arising from infirmity or old age, have lately taken place here; as usual, no Coroner's inquest held on either of the bodies! Is not this a reproach to any British colony? Is it not a stain upon the character of New South Wales? For, independent of this serious and alarming circumstance, in nine cases out of ten that take place, the body of the deceased person is, with shame be it spoken, interred in a hole, frequently like a dog, without a coffin, and consequently subject to be torn up and devoured, as they have been, by wild native dogs, for the want of a burial ground; I have already, in some of my former communications, inserted in the Sydney Herald, (though the same have not yet met my eye) commented in no unmeasured terms upon these heart-rending and disgraceful occurrences, as well as the want of some place of public worship, a school, magistrate, and coroner. Some two years ago, a gentleman, having a large interest at stake in Kempsey, favoured me with the sight of a subscription-list, wherein there were many names set down, for sums varying from £10 to £50 each, for the purpose of building a little church in this village. The first name was the Bishop of Australia for £50. I hope some of your numerous readers in this district will throw some light on this interesting subject, through the medium of your widely-circulated and useful journal.

A number of residents have recently left the river—namely, W. H. Chapman, Esq., Mrs. Cahwac, Mrs. Salmon, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, and many sawyers.

WATTY BUTLER, the horse-stealer, of whom so much was said in my last, has, it is rumoured, effected his escape. Another horse, belonging to Mr. Thompson, at Boat Harbour, has been stolen; and it is suspected, that Butler is the thief. The animal is a small black entire, with a white spot on the forehead, and both hind feet white. A reward of £5 is offered for the horse. He is of the Clydesdale breed.

NAMOI RIVER.

THERE has been thirty-two hours' rain, and the plains are tolerably soaked: we may therefore calculate upon soon being able to compete with our more fortunate friends to the south, by sending cattle to market.

LOWER LIVERPOOL PLAINS.

EXTRACT from a letter, dated August 24, 1842:—"I arrived here with the cattle, dray, and men, all perfectly safe, last evening, and expect to be on the Barwin in three days more. It will take us about eight days to travel from thence to our station on the Mooney, where I understand there is plenty of grass and water, the blacks still remaining very quiet in that quarter; but on the Barwin they are killing cattle in all directions, and have also killed some horses. They threatened to kill Mr. Cook's men, who were sent to conduct Mr. C.'s stockmen in from the station with the few cattle left (only six head). All the rest of the herd have been slaughtered and scattered by the blacks. Mr. Cook's men would not stop any longer on the station, as there is no protection whatever afforded. Such is a faithful, though you will no doubt think it melancholy account, of the state of affairs in this (at favourable seasons) fine part of the colony. I am sure, if proper representations of our situation were made to His Excellency, that he would take measures to prevent or protect us from total ruin, caused by the uncalled-for depredations committed by the blacks. In those districts, God knows, we have had enough to contend with of late, owing to the dreadful season, without being subject to those attacks from my sable countrymen. All at head-quarters ought to endeavour to arouse the Government to a sense of our dreadful situation beyond the boundary."

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

RELIGIOUS INTOLERANCE.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—Your correspondent Melancthon, who has taken upon himself to state what he calls FACTS in reply to those made by the Bishop in Council would have done better had he let a subject alone with which he is evidently, but slightly acquainted, Melancthon is so far correct in stating that there is a Protestant cemetry at Naples, but it is rather a novel idea to call the permission to read the service in a private room religious toleration, if he knew it he ought also to have stated, that since 1827 the English inhabitants got up a large subscription to build a Protestant church at Naples, for which the king refused his permission. Great exertions were made by the English to get the permission granted, and whether or not they were finally successfull I am not aware, but to the best of my recollection they were not; as the subject caused great excitement at the time, it was possibly to this that the Bishop of Australia meant to refer. As to Melancthon's having attended divine service at the residence of the British Ambassador at Rome, that is rather a hardy asservation, as every person at all acquainted with the history of his own country knows that there has been no British Ambassador at Rome since the Reformation; before the passing of the Catholic Emancipation Act there was not even a British Consul at Rome; in 1827 there was a Vice-Consul, a man named Smith, but his character was so disreputable that no respectable person would have any thing to do with him. The English Church was then, and is now held in one of the apartments of a large granary outside the Porta del Popolo on the Via Flaminia. The service was formerly read within the city, but when the English became so numerous a body in Rome that their passing to or from Church attracted observation, the Pope ordered the Protestant service to be read outside the city walls, and the granary was the only place to be got within a convenient distance; no bell, nor outward appearance of a church, is allowed; the same entrance is used to the other parts of the building; and during service two sentries are placed at the door to keep the populace out. But, even in this miserable place, the Protestants are not always allowed to worship their God in peace. During the time that the respected clergyman, Mr. Burgess, was delivering a course of lectures on the History of our Saviour, spies were placed in the church, who perverted his meaning in their report to the authorities, and, had it not been for the prompt interference of some English nobleman, Mr. Burgess would have been arrested, and as it was, the printed copies of his works were seized by the police. I could say much more on the subject, but as this is I think sufficient to refute the statements of "Melancthon," I will not occupy more space in your valuable columns.

I remain, &c.,

A TRAVELLER.

[We do not think it necessary to insert further correspondence on this subject; the letter of "Clericus Anglicanus," in yesterday's Herald, having fully justified the assertion of the Bishop, by shewing the authorities on which those assertions were made.—EDS.]

ENGLISH EXTRACTS.

EMIGRATION.—The first meeting of the Consulting Council of the Scottish and North American Association for emigration and colonisation, was held on Friday, at the house of the association, 29, New Bridge-street, Blackfriars, his Grace the Duke of Argyll in the chair. The commissioners reported the arrangements that have been made with a view to commencing the operations of the association in Canada and Prince Edward's Island; and the reply of Lord Stanley to the memorial lately presented by the baronets of Scotland; after which, resolutions were passed, that the objects of the association be proceeded with, as of paramount importance to the colonies in British North America as well as to the people of the United Kingdom. The consulting council is composed of upwards of fifty peers and baronets of Scotland. The meeting was attended by Mr. Ro'ph, government agent for emigration in the Canadas, and Sir Allan Napier Macnab, the speaker of the Legislative Assembly of the Upper Province.—Liverpool Paper, April.

Returns have been ordered by the Lords of the Treasury of the salaries paid to every officer connected with the Post-office department. It is intended to increase the salaries of every postmaster, assistant, letter receiver, and postman, which will swallow up considerably more than the present net Post-office revenue; and then it is the intention of the present Government to insist upon a trifling increase of the postage on letters to enable the Post-office department to pay the expense of its management.—Globe.

Out of the eighty-five places where Bodism formerly was progressing, there are only thirty-nine left, where its principles are openly taught and acknowledged!

PHOTOGRAPHIC DRAWINGS.—An artist of Rome, named Rondoin, has just succeeded in taking photographic drawings on stone, and printing from it. In that way he printed a lithograph of a nebula of Orion. [This is printing, at second hand, from Nature herself, bringing the firmament within one move of the press! The next process will be, to print speech and music warm from the lips.]

THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON.—Sunday last was the birth-day of the Duke of Wellington, who completed his 73d year, having been born in May, 1769.—Times.

Mr. Washington Irving, the American author and Minister to the Court of Spain, arrived at Liverpool on Sunday, on board the Independence packet-ship from New York. It is the intention of the inhabitants of Liverpool to give a grand dinner to Mr. Washington Irving.

As expedition is of so much importance, offers for any quicker conveyance of the mails than is now effected will be favourably entertained; but it is to be understood that they are to be dispatched on the days and hours to be fixed by the Postmaster-General, either according to the present arrangement, or as he may afterwards determine for the public convenience.

It will be optional with parties to offer for one or more of the above lines of stages, and to propose the mode of conveyance; but on all roads where wheel vehicles can travel, a preference will be given to carriage conveyance, and the contractors will be held strictly bound to use the conveyance they propose, and to travel at the rate agreed upon. The rate of travelling is not to be less than six miles per hour, including all stoppages. The contractors are to convey all bags and letters, which may be delivered to them under authority of the Postmaster-General, or any of the Postmasters, and to provide secure lockers for the mails in carriages, and dry coverings for the bags on horseback.

Contractors will be bound to prevent the conveyance of any letter or packet, by any of their servants, or passengers, or otherwise, to the prejudice of the Post Office revenue, under a penalty of £5 for each and every offence.

Contractors will be liable to a fine of five shillings for every five minutes delay after the specified time of starting; and to a like penalty for every ten minutes delay after the specified time of arrival, except for the first five and ten minutes, respectively.

A mail cart or carriage, drawn only by one orse, must not carry more than one passener; by two horses, not more than three assengers; and by three or more horses, ot more than six passengers, exclusive of e driver, under a penalty of £3 for each ffence, on all roads except between Melourne and Yass, and on that road the penalty ill be £10.

All vehicles and horses employed in the nveyance of mails, are to be at all times bject to the inspection and approval, or jection, of the Postmaster-General, or pern appointed by him for that purpose. The ivers and postmen are to be free men, and certified good character.

All fines and penalties incurred under the greement are to be deducted by the Postaster-General from the next quarterly inalment falling due to the contractor, and to considered as over and above any penalties ovided by any Act of Council.

Each party tendering, or an agent for him, ust attend at this Office on the day appointed r opening the Tenders; and each Tender ust bear the signatures of two respectable lvent persons, willing to enter into a bond ith the contractor for the safety of the ails, and the due performance of the ntract.

The hours of starting from each Post Office, d other particulars, may be ascertained at e General Post Office, where parties prosing to tender are invited to seek infortion.

Printed forms of Tenders may be had on plication at the General and all other Post ffices throughout the Colony.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SYDNEY WHO MAY BE ELECTED TO THE RESPECTIVE OFFICES OF MAYOR, ALDERMEN, AND COUNCILLORS.

GENTLEMEN,—As the time is now fast approaching, at which you will be called upon to fill the several Offices, which will necessarily attach to your Body as the Council of the City, I will not longer delay placing myself under your notice as a candidate for the situation of Town Clerk, which Office will be exclusively in your nomination. With respect to my qualification for the proper discharge of the functions of the important trust to which I have now the ambition to aspire, I beg leave to inform such of you and of my Fellow-Citizens and Colonists as may not be already cognizant of the circumstances, that I was the first regularly admitted Attorney, Solicitor, and Proctor, in any regularly constituted Court or Courts of Judicature for the trial of Causes at Law or in Equity, and for Ecclesiastical and Vice-Admiralty matters, that existed in the colony, having obtained my admission in the Supreme and Governor's Courts in the month of February, 1815; that I had been previously admitted an Attorney and Solicitor of the three superior Court at Westminster, in the beginning of the year 1810, and that I was induced to proceed to this colony in the latter end of the year 1814, under the appointment of His then Majesty's Ministers with a Salary, for the express purpose of enabling the then newly erected Colonial Courts to proceed to the despatch of their judicial duties with legally qualified Officers; that, during my residence in this Colony I have, from the year 1825 to the year 1834 inclusive, at different periods, filled the several high and important Offices of the Master of the Crown Office, or King's Coroner and Attorney of the Supreme Court, Attorney and Solicitor-General, and Crown Solicitor and Prosecutor, in both Civil and Criminal matters, in all which Offices, I firmly believe, or perhaps flatter myself, that I gave entire satisfaction to the Heads of the Department, that is to say, the Judges under whom I had the honour of so serving.

I hope at the same time, also, that I may stand excused in further stating to you that I served the responsible and highly respectable Office of Under-Sheriff of the City of London and County of Middlesex, during the far greater portion of the year 1813, and that my necessarily constant attendance on and co-operation with the Corporation of London during that year, and my very frequent communications with that Body on matters of business, during considerable parts of the preceding and succeeding years, have afforded me such a general knowledge of City business as would enable me, should I be honoured with your election to the Office I now solicit of you, to enter upon the duties of it with greater confidence than I should feel, were I an entire stranger to such matters.

Having thus submitted to you the grounds of my pretensions, to the honour of holding what I consider to be one of the highest offices that will belong to the forthcoming Corporate Body in general, and that most immediately in connexion with the Council of the City in particular, I humbly beg leave to express my hope that you will give me such support at the ensuing and first election, as will place me in the nomination thereof; and in such event, I pledge myself that my best endeavours shall at all times be exerted for the proper discharge of the duties connected therewith, and the maintenance of the due dignity and powers of the Corporate Authorities.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your most obedient and very humble servant,

W. H. MOORE.

Sydney, September 10. 3627

To the Electors of Phillip Ward

FELLOW CITIZENS,—Is there such a deficiency of talented and respectable individuals, who are worthy of civic honours, among ourselves, that we are to be told a person altogether unconnected with us and out of our ward, is to be proposed not only to represent it, but two wards besides. Really this is beating O'Connell hollow, who only got returned for two places, although he is Agitator-General and Liberator to boot. Shew that if we are insulted with such a proposal, that we will not be made scapegoats to gratify the vanity of any aspirant, for we need not look many paces either to the right or the left of our own doors, to find I may say, hundreds, at any rate fully as well qualified; but I am tempted to think it is a hoax for who would be fools enough to vote for a man, in either ward, who, after being elected, can throw you off. Only fancy yourselves imploring him to represent your ward, to the exclusion of the others, and the discarded bewailing their loss; but it is too absurd and ridiculous to pursue any further—only apply the lies to your own common sense.

A CITIZEN OF PHILLIP WARD.

BY ORDER OF THE MORTGAGEE.

Land at Campbelltown, Lane Cove, and Hinton.

MR. SAMUEL LYONS will submit for sale by public auction, at his Mart, the corner of George-street and Charlotte place, on MONDAY, the 19th instant, at eleven o'clock precisely,

WITHOUT THE LEAST RESERVE,

AT CAMPBELLTOWN.

An Allotment of Land, situate at the corner of Lindsay and Lithgow streets, Campbelltown, containing one acre and thirty perches, on which is erected FOUR BRICK VERANDAH COTTAGES.

This property is confidently recommended to public notice, being very advantageously situated in Campbelltown, which is rapidly increasing in magnitude and importance.

It is to be particularly observed, that the fortunate buyer in this instance, will at once have an income arising from his purchase, an advantage seldom to be met with, as houses situated in any of the principal towns in the Colony are very rarely offered for sale, even in the present times. As the above property is of considerable value, the Auctioneer respectfully invites intending purchasers to visit the same previous to the day of sale.

AFTER WHICH

LAND AT LANE COVE.

About forty acres of land at LANE COVE, situated on the road from Parramatta to St. Leonards, Billy Blue's and various other places, and immediately opposite the Church and School 2 (and lots 12 and 13 in the original sale), having each a frontage of one hundred feet to the Hunter's River with a depth of two hundred and eighteen feet each, near the junction of the Paterson and Hunter Rivers, and directly facing Kelly's Farms.

The position of this property is truly important, and renders it a peculiarly suitable spot for the erection of an inn or mercantile store. In fact, whatever amount it may realise, there can be no doubt but that in a very short time, judging from the numerous improvements in the vicinity, it will greatly increase in value.

A good field is here opened for speculation, which under judicious management cannot fail of success, being near the confluence of two of the principal rivers in the colony, which are navigated by steam; the trade and traffic is immense, and must ever keep pace with the increase of population.

Land, on which is erected a Verandah weather-boarded Cottage and detached kitchen, now in the occupation of Mr. M'Intosh; about twenty acres have been cleared, stumped and fenced in. There is also a beautiful garden, and adjoining are the Farms of Mr. Clayton and Mr. Forster.

A very snug little Farm as above described, is here presented for sale, with Cottage thereon; a visit to which will do more to convince parties of its value, and the beauty of its locality, than anything that can be stated in an advertisement. It will suffice to state, that the purchaser will have the advantage of entering upon a property which has been previously cultivated, at a convenient distance from Sydney, where he can always command a market for his produce.

ALSO,

A piece of Land on the Hunter's River forming a part of the Hinton Estate, being lots 1 and Plans of each of the above properties may be seen, and further particulars obtained, at the Mart of the Auctioneer.

The abstracts of Title and Title Deeds may be seen and perused on application at the Office of Mr. R. J. Want, Solicitor, Pitt-street, Sydney.

TERMS OF PAYMENT.—A cash deposit of ten per cent. on the fall of the hammer; for the residue, approved endorsed bills at three, six, and nine months, dated from day of sale, and bearing interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum from day of sale. 3408

BY ORDER OF THE MORTGAGEE.

LAND AT VAUCLUSE, AND ONE HUNDRED ALLOTMENTS,

Being a portion of the celebrated Estate called

PADDINGTON,

Situated in the Parish of ALEXANDRIA, on the SOUTH HEAD ROAD, and nearly opposite the New Military Barracks

MR. SAMUEL LYONS begs to inform the public, that the above properties will be offered by him for positive sale by public auction, at his Mart, the corner of George-street and Charlotte place, on MONDAY, the 19th instant, at eleven o'clock, and without the least reserve,

Immediately after the sale of the Campbelltown, Lane Cove, and Hinton Estates,

The celebrated estate of VAUCLUSE, late the property of W. C. Wentworth, Esq., Lot No. 23 of the original plan, containing four acres and three quarters of this splendid property, which is daily and even hourly increasing in value, and is not more than a walking distance from the business part of Sydney.

This allotment joins the church reserve and is bounded by Mr. John Jones's allotments, having frontages to both the OLD AND NEW SOUTH HEAD ROADS.

In recommending this property to the notice of individuals desirous of possessing a suburban allotment, the Auctioneer begs to remark, that Vaucluse commands such extensive views that no ship or vessel can possibly enter or pass the harbour without being seen, and may be justly compared to SOUTHEND, the fashionable watering place at the mouth of the Thames.

AFTER WHICH,

A portion of the celebrated estate called subdivided into one hundred allotments, having frontages to the South Head Road William, Underwood, Victoria, Albert, and Elizabeth streets, varying from twenty-two to thirty feet each, with depths varying from fifty to sixty feet each.

PADDINGTON,

The situation of this Estate is so well known, and so justly admired that the Auctioneer, would not intrude more than the above description, upon the attention of the inhabitants of Sydney, did he not consider himself bound, in justice to the newly arrived ones, to point out a few of its numerous advantages.

These allotments are nearly opposite the

and are bounded on the west, by the property of Mr. Miller, on the east, by that of Mr. A'dis, and on the south, by the South Head Road and are only a very short distance beyond Juniper Hall the splendid Estate of Robert Cooper, Esq.; and, being in fact, only two miles from the Metropolis; the vast improvements going on in this direction, surprises even the hourly, much less the daily, observer.

A just description of the beauty and variety of the surrounding scenery, would far exceed the limits of an advertisement; the Auctioneer would merely observe, that the whole of Port Jackson, Garden, and Shark Islands, the numerous Bays, and the constant variety of shipping arriving and departing may be seen from this spot, together with the NORTH and SOUTH HEADS.—Among other points on which the is entitled to notice, are those of health and economy. It is evident that a residence almost in Sydney itself, combined with exemption from the enormous rents now so generally demanded in town, is also an advantage of rare occurrence.

It is to be particularly noticed that these allotments are beyond the limits of the city of Sydney and consequently are not affected by the Building Act; they have been laid out in such a manner as to give every one an opportunity of purchasing. The ground has been staked out in allotments in accordance with the plan, and is perfectly cleared and nearly level; therefore, purchasers who may be desirous of building, can immediately commence, without incurring the least expense in the removal of impediments, as the allotments now present the appearance of an extensive grass plot.

The Auctioneer therefore earnestly invites all classes to attend the sale of these allotments, and recommends the public to profit by the present opportunity, when the acquisition of one or more of them may be accomplished for a mere trifle, by which all these benefits will be secured to the fortunate purchasers.

Plans, illustrative of the above properties, may be inspected, and further particulars obtained, at the Mart of the auctioneer.

The abstracts of Title and Title Deeds may be seen and perused on application at the Office of Mr. R. J. Want, Solicitor, Pitt-street, Sydney.

TERMS OF PAYMENT

£10 per cent. cash deposit on the fall of the hammer; for the residue approved endorsed bills at three, six, and nine months, dated from day of sale, and bearing interest at the rate of ten per cent. [illegible]

In the Insolvent Estate of George Wentworth, of Greendale.

MR. SAMUEL LYONS is instructed to sell by auction, at his Mart, the corner of George street and Charlotte-place, on FRIDAY, the 23rd instant, at eleven o'clock,

The following Property:—

A life interest in four thousand two hundred and fifty-seven and a half acres of land.

ALSO,

About nineteen years' unexpired lease of the same quantity of land, subject to a yearly rental of £110 per annum; both of which constitute an estate named "GREENDALE," which remains in an undivided situation, being entailed landed property.

SITUATION, EXTENT, &c.

In the parish of Bringelly and county of Cumberland, bounded on the west by the Nepean river, on the north by Blaxland's estate, on the east by Wright's, Lowe's and Cubitt's grants, and on the south by the Bringelly road and Hill's and Campbell's grants.

AFTER WHICH,

Twenty Pigs

200 head, more or less

The Bull Stock included.

4000 Sheep classified, as per muster; to be known at the Auction Mart on the day of sale, with particulars of each flock, and names of the Shepherds.

TO SHEEP-FARMERS

and all Settlers, versed and known as distinguished Flock-masters in the colony. These carefully bred Sheep must bring to their recollection the many years of labour and expense spirited proprietors have been at since the arrival of those per Diadem, in 1829; imported purposely to improve the stock, by throwing in the best blood both from the Escurial and Saxony Flocks. It is natural to suppose that the descendants of that breed at subsequent periods required a further change, reinvigorating the constitution of the animal so liable to falling off in shape and unity of proportion.

It is with this view that these sheep have been looked after, and it is presumed that the great object is attained when you produce an animal with firm round ribs, legs not too long, a well set and full chest, broad powerful loin, small bone, graceful figure, and improved weight of fleece.

If these recommendations are worth paying attention to, and the description of the animal is borne out by good practical and experienced judges upon the subject, it only remains for any intending purchaser to refer to the Stock to which these bear consanguinity, and there can be then no doubt as to the reputation the person will arrive at, in the wool market, who has the good luck to become the buyer of them. These sheep are about now dropping their lambs, which will be included in the Sale with all the Wool.

N.B.—The muster returns will be produced at day of Sale, at which time the Terms will be made known.

Interim—Persons wishing further information will apply to Messrs. Macdermott and Brownlow, C. R. Nichols, Esq., or to the Auctioneer, King-street. [illegible]

Terms—Six and twelve months credit.

NO DEPOSIT.

For further particulars enquire at King-street.

N.B.—Any person at all acquainted with Cattle, must be convinced from the ages of the above stock, that a more profitable lot has seldom been offered for public competition; a better chance, as they will be sold without reserve. 3283

FORTY ACRES,

BOTANY PARISH, BANK'S MEADOWS.

MR. STUBBS is instructed to Sell by Public Auction, at the Mart, King street on WEDNESDAY, the 21st day of September, 1842. Sale at Twelve.

The above valuable Estate in ONE LOT, as described on the Plan, lying and situated in the Parish of Botany, bounded on the south by the Veteran's Allotments at "Bank's Meadows;" on the east by the Church Land; on the north by the estate of the late S. Lord, Esq., which adjoins the Waterloo Estate; and on the west by Mr Kellett's Land.

It is distant from Sydney Race Course about two miles, other very important recommendations are added, viz:—

1. The Government great drain to the Village Reserve is about three hundred feet only from this Farm.
2. Fresh Water.
3. Situation elevated.
4. Soil rich swamp for garden purposes.
5. Timber easily removed.
6. Close to other Veteran cultivated Allotments of well-known value and name.
7. Grant from the Crown, free of quit rent.

Term—Ten per cent. deposit; residue by approved bills at three, six, and twelve months without interest.

OF THIS PROPERTY

Very much of the Gardening Land about Sydney having been thoroughly weakened by incessant over-production, it becomes very urgent on all Market Gardeners, persons growing Green Stuff, and all other Farm Produce, not to loose possession of this fresh Cultivatable Farm. If it were only to save the expense of perpetually drawing manure, which otherwise they must do to keep up the character of supplying what is called "genuine white-heart cabbage," and which (to bear the best price in the market) should not be impregnated with any metropolitan feculency, or subnutrient gypsum, unavoidable under the forcing system; scarcely, by the bye, to be borne in any house without a detached kitchen.

In respect of this Property, as a speculation, surely there cannot be a doubt of future advantages and remuneration. Confessedly had this property been put up awhile since it would have been called dirt cheap at £800 to £1000! but now it is to be had at a monstrous reduction and long credit. 3571

SALES BY AUCTION.

To Merchant Tailors and Drapers.

LINEN DRILL.

MR. STUBBS will sell by public auction, at the Mart, King-street, on SATURDAY next, the 17th day of September, at eleven o'clock,

Thirty-two pieces of Linen Drill, well suited for the season.

Terms cash. 3563

PERCY FARM, NEAR SYDNEY.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIVE ACRES, ONE ROOD, EIGHT PERCHES, MORE OR LESS.

By order of the Trustees in the Estate of the late Solomon Levey, Esq.

MR. STUBBS will submit to public competition, at the Mart, King-street, on MONDAY, the nineteenth day of September 1842, at twelve o'clock, by Mr. Armstrong, Surveyor to the Estate.

Situated as described on the plan, in the Parish of St. George, County of Cumberland, and bounded severally by the properties, viz — Mr. R. J. Robinson's one hundred acres, Mrs. Jenkins's one hundred acres, Mr. Clarke's one hundred acres, Mr. Justice Stephen's eighty acres, and the valuable Landed Estate of C. Prout, Esq.

THE REDUCED SKETCH

Discovers immediately the important value attached to this Farm by the George's River, and Bexley, high roads to Sydney, running right through it. is but a very short distance from the Ford over Cook's River, and Prout's Bridge, rendering the distance to Sydney, when the projected roads this side the river to Sydney are completed, of no moment whatever; any property whatever near the Sugar Works, and well cultivated Estates about this locality, must increase in value, and when it is calculated that the timber for building and firing pays over and above the clearing and getting the ground in order, and they have left, after all this profit, an excellent agricultural Farm, no one can expect a better offer made to him than this really is, surrounded as it is by Farms and Estates in the hands of parties who have no idea of parting with them.

Terms liberal, made known at sale. 3297

TOWNSHIP ESTATE.

POSITIVE SALE.

By Order of the Legatees.

MR. STUBBS has received instructions to sell by public auction, on WEDNESDAY, the 21st day of September, 1842, at the Mart, King-street, sale at twelve.

The Undermentioned Government Township Properties.

As described in the Treasury Documents, being original purchases of great price and choice selection, viz :—

1. Scone—Lot 46—Two roods, allotment 9 section 12; sold May 14, 1840
2. Violet Creek—Lot 1—Two roods, allotment 1 section 1; sold June 9, 1840
3. Violet Creek—Lot 2—Two roods, allotment 2 section 1; sold June 9, 1840
4. Dungog—Lot 14—Two roods, allotment 4 section 7; sold August 15. 1839
5. Albury—Lot 1—Two roods, allotment 1 section 1; sold October 10, 1839
6. Albury—Lot 2—Two roods, allotment 2 section 1; sold October 10 1839
7. Bookham—Lot 1—Two roods, allotment 1 section 1; sold June 11, 1840
8. Bookham—Lot 2—Two roods, allotment 2 section 1; sold June 11, 1840

12. Mitchell's Town—Lot 16—Two roods, allotment 6 section 5; sold May 9, 1840.

TERMS—CASH.

A private sale may be effected at Mr. Stubb's Office for the whole, and a great bargain! 3573

BALMAIN.

FOUR COTTAGES AND GROUND,

A Portion of the Strathean Estate,

IN WATERVIEW BAY,

OPPOSITE GOAT ISLAND.

MR. STUBBS has received instructions to sell (POSITIVELY) by public auction, at the Mart, King-street, on WEDNESDAY, the 21st day of September, 1842.

SALE AT TWELVE.

The undermentioned allotments of the above valuable Estate as described, viz.—

LOT 3.

One Cottage of four rooms, fenced in, and under cultivation.

LOTS 1 and 4.

Two Cottages of four rooms each.

LOT 2.

One Cottage of six rooms.

N.B.—One of the Cottages is now rented for six months at £1 per week.

No one has ever yet disputed the eligibility or situation of this property.

The sixpenny fare from the Miller's Point, or Gas Wharf Ferry-boat proves at once the contiguity and convenience this property is to Sydney, and it infers, also, that the boatman must have plenty doing in the passenger way, or else one thinks it would never answer his purpose to go on the Balmain side for so low a fare.

As everybody must recollect the eagerness showed in former sales of property similar, in this Estate, it would be superfluous swelling the tide of its popularity.

Terms—Fifteen per cent. deposit, residue by approved endorsed bills at three and six months. 3568

Part of Captain Kent's celebrated Grant

A SUPERB SELECTION OF KISSING POINT.

MR. STUBBS has received directions (positively) from Captain Baker, R. N., to offer by Public Auction, as an inducement to persons desirous of investing a moderate sum in prodigious remunerating profit, on WEDNESDAY, the 21st day of September, 1842 at the Mart, King-street; sale at twelve precisely,

All the remaining portion of that gentleman's estate, comprising about ten eligible suburban Farm Properties, having access to the government road, contiguous to Shrimpton's Creek, and partaking of all the advantages of that select and highly prized neighbourhood. Than which a greater proof cannot be given than by reminding the public of the great difficulty the admirers of country enjoyment experience in being able to get any portion at all.

Terms liberal, will be made known at sale. 3569

FOR SALE,

BELLO RETIRO.

(4th mile only from Obelisk, Macquarie-place,

NEAR THE CHURCH ON THE COOK'S RIVER ROAD, WITH A GOVERNMENT ROAD LEADING TO UNWIN'S BRIDGE AT THE BACK.

A BEAUTIFUL VILLA RESIDENCE,

With most convenient Out-offices, Premises, Garden and Pleasure Grounds, and lately in the occupation of John Lord, Esq.

PREFACE.

To attempt carrying out, by any terms, a full belief in the expense and costliness of another man's undertaking, when we ourselves have neither interest nor concern in the matter,—is almost fruitless. Hence it is, that the most splendid Villa Residences about Sydney, designed under every combination that can gratify the senses or render life agreeable; mansions perfected with all that taste can make enviable, and pleasure grounds ornamented and clothed with exotic and most rare of Nature's productions,—" the tall Cedar and choice Fir-tree,"—are as silently passed over, without notice, as if Science were dead in the world, and that mankind knew no more of social and moral excellence—discernment or truth, than just as is resolved into the mere Question of " How much d'ye think it is worth a foot ? "

To rescue this property from such neglect the following description is given, hoping that an exception to this rule will be made, considering also, that all essential particulars are to be obtained at the Mart, in the Catalogue.

MR. STUBBS announces positive instructions placed in his hands, to proceed to sale, by order of the mortgagee, on WEDNESDAY, the 28th day of September, 1842, at the Mart, King street, at one o'clock,

BY PUBLIC AUCTION,

With all that very important and valuable property, delineated on the plan as surveyed and mapped by Mr. W. H. Wells, situated at a most delightful and agreeable distance from the high road, as above described.

THE HOUSE

is brick-built, and finished in stucco, and stands on an area of about 4,000 feet, and presents, as you approach it by the drive sweeping the circular lawn from the carriage entrance, the most decided proof of the architect's science and skill having been bestowed in the disposition, taste, and structure of the edifice altogether. The admirable arrangements in the proportions and convenience of the various apartments is at once perceptible, and which, as a whole design, reminds one immediately of that chaste and universally successful introduction—the modern English Style, called " Domestic Architecture." The house, with some sixteen acres of land, extensive premises, garden, paddocks, and convenient appurtenances, will from the FIRST LOT, (A.)

LOTS 1 to 31

are admirably laid out as Building Allotments (about half acre each) for Villa Residences, from a quantity of land computing 14a. 1r. 29p. Four of these have frontages on the Sydney Road to the Dam, and other five are on the Government Road leading to Unwin's Bridge. The remainder being with frontages to Maria-street, which is reserved as an open communication of ingress and egress to all the Lots from one government road to the other.

NOTE.

☞ Ground Plan of the House, with dimensions of the Rooms, particulars of the Fixtures, Furniture, Appendages, and Appurtenances belonging to the first lot, will be made known by printed catalogues, which are now ready for delivery, with terms of sale.

ORIGINAL OF THE POPULAR CHIP PENDALE.

NOW IN PROFITABLE ALLOTMENTS,

Abercrombie Place, and Waterloo Place,

AT THE REAR OF TOOTH'S BREWERY,

NEAR THE

BLACKWATTLE SWAMP

By Order of the Trustees in the Estate of the late Solomon Levey, Esq.

" Take fortune by the hand when she holds it out to you"—SIR WALTER SCOTT.

MR. STUBBS is instructed (in consequence of the disappointment expressed by many in obtaining allotments at Tuesday's Sale,) to submit to public competition, at his Rooms, King street, at twelve precisely, on MONDAY, the 19th day of September, 1842, the above property.

It has been carefully planned out in allotments by Mr. Meikle, in much larger proportions than these recently sold, and at the same time with equal frontage advantages in regard to price and terms. Tradesmen, Mechanics, and Operatives, are invited particularly to inspect the plan and attend this sale, as everything has been studied to meet their wishes: as to profit on their purchases,

THE FIRST THING IS TO SAVE TAXES AND THE BUILDING ACT.

It sufficiently qualifies any length of recommendation, to be able to observe the discerning eye of that sensible and respectable portion of our Sydney community, the Tradesmen, Mechanics, and Operatives—" wide awake again," to the important advantages resulting from the purchase of Building Property in the southern district of the city.

Daily occupancy proves the fact, that the vast building operations going on, in this quarter, spring up solely from the great public demand for tenements, anywhere, in this healthy and convenient neighbourhood.

And, it is well known, from the low price of materials in the market now, together with the system of mutuality adopted in co-operative labour upon a reasonable scale of wages, that no speculation pays better in the whole colony than snug tenements (at a moderate rent) no matter what you give for the ground, on easy credit, in the first instance. 3290

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Sheriff's Office, Sydney, August 15.

Rees v. Ginger.

ON MONDAY, the 19th day of September, at noon, at the residence of the defendant, Clarence River, the Sheriff will cause to be sold, a quantity of Household Furniture, about four hundred and thirty head of Cattle, eight Horses and Mares, four Working Bullocks, &c., unless his execution is previously satisfied.

CORNELIUS PROUT,
2683 Under Sheriff.

TO BE PEREMPTORILY SOLD, pursuant to a Decree of the Supreme Court of New South Wales, in equity, made in a cause Henry Smith v. William Houston, an infant, by Peter Dawson, his guardian, with the approbation of William Carter, Esquire, master of the said Supreme Court, at the Royal Hotel, George-street, Sydney, on Monday, the tenth of October next, at twelve o'clock at noon, certain freehold premises situate at Pumpkin Point, in the County of Cumberland, and Colony of New South Wales aforesaid. Particulars may be had (gratis) at the said Master's Office, in King-street, of
